STORE LAMBS - 7611Auctioneer - Greg Christopher

A large entry of lambs was embraced by a busy ringside of customers and an excellent trade throughout. All classes of lamb proved to be very good to sell with plenty of distant purchasers in attendance. The strongest lambs this week being ram lambs to £126.50 for 13 Cotswold ram lambs. Texel ram lambs to £125.50, Suffolk x to £125.50 with Clun ram lambs to £122 and Mule ram lambs to £123.

Suffolk x mixed lambs to £125.50 with Texels to £124, several strong clean lambs £112-£122. Another very good show of farming lambs was presented although looking slightly more weathered than last week as the continued rain starts to have an effect on the sheep. Lambs with condition and frame remained very easy to sell and would be an excellent trade from £96-£106 with numerous lambs trading £100 plus, again the smart best Texel and Beltex lambs were very good to sell to ever increasing customers. The strongest best lambs all trading £102-£115 with several pens £105-£112, smaller sorts in the £90's and looking well sold, more of these can be sold each week.

The next step down in the farming lambs from £88-£95, with plenty of business from £92-£95 for both continentals and Suffolk x Mules. Medium keeping lambs looking a shade dearer on the week with plenty of lambs £84-£88 with the slightly smaller or some harder bred types £78-£83. More Mule wethers this week. Strong Mules £87-£93 topping at £98.50 with medium keeping sorts £78-£85.

Well bred longer term lambs from £66-£77, with the best end up in the £70's. A few more harder bred lambs starting to appear - these £60-£70, with more small and very small lambs, with very few under £45. Several £48-£58. More Welsh and Cheviot wethers, no real strength in either with the better Cheviot lambs £72-£84. Welsh wethers from £57-£67 depending on frame and potential.

Just shy of 2000 ram lambs with most breeds represented, several hill ram lambs to include plenty of Mule and hardy Elan Valley types. Very good competition for all the ram lambs with more purchasers operating. Strength £105-£124, well bred farming sorts £92-£102, with the best hill ram lambs £90-£100 for strong Welsh/Cheviots, the next step down £77-£87 to include several Mule types. Small ram lambs £52-£70 depending on frame, condition and potential.

All types easily handled and an excellent trade throughout. Many thanks to all vendors, purchasers and staff for a busy Tuesday sale.
